SAN DIEGO CYBER DEMO DAY

ATLANTA, GA – Scientific Research Corporation (SRC) held a Cyber Demo Day in their San Diego office in May to showcase SRC's cyber capabilities and past work experience. With nineteen presentations from SRC, Lockheed Martin, McAfee and many more, nearly 50 attendees were able to better understand the team's Cyber capabilities on topics ranging from Computer Network Defense and Cloud Computing Services to SRC's Innovation Cell.

According to ISS Division Vice President, Mike Bachmann, "The day was a great success with participation from SPAWAR Headquarters, PEO C4I, as well as SPAWAR Systems Center Pacific. SPAWAR Code 5.2 leads were especially impressed with the cyber endeavors of SRC's ATS Division teammates Jim Raines and Colonel USA (Ret) Russ Leaphart. Significant government interest has led to a demand for SRC support as the Navy migrates their infrastructure to the Joint Information Exchange (JIE) Joint Regional Security Stacks (JRSS)."
